

We are looking for: a junior / mid-senior Supply Chain Controller

Why is this job of interest to you?

- Work in an international environment, dealing with fresh organic products
- For leading customers around the world
- At the parent company behind the innovative I AM Organic® brand
- Learning on the job and opportunity to develop yourself professionally

What does the job involve?

In this role you will actively learn everything about the supply chain in the fruit and vegetable industry. The main goal of the role is to make sure our supply chain, both on the procurement and the sales side runs smoothly from A to Z. In this versatile and dynamic role, you will be in close contact with all parties involved in multiple supply chains of Organto around the globe. You will play an active role in making sure that from shipping from source all the way to product delivery to customer is executed excellent and deliverables are met. You combine excellent planning skills with a problem-solving mindset. You are positive and energetic, and you are not easily thrown off-balance by setbacks. If needed, you can quickly adjust to unexpected circumstances, finding creative ways to solve issues, considering the interests of all parties involved. You will be part of a fast-growing global team and report directly to the commercial director of Organto Europe. To keep close contact with the team, you will be based at the Organto office in Breda.

Some of your responsibilities:

- Book all necessary steps in the ERP system for both sales and procurement
- Work with the entire Organto team, vendors, transporters, and suppliers to ensure smooth operation
- Follow up and report to purchase, sales, and finance department where necessary
- Track shipments to ensure they arrive at their destination in time
- Make sure fulfilment partners have enough stock to meet demand
- Suggest solutions for process improvements
- Monitor stock levels
- Oversee the ordering and packaging process
- Build and maintain good relationships with suppliers, fulfilment partners and customers
- Identify process bottleneck and suggest solutions in a timely manner
- Administrative tasks for the benefit of overview and reporting

Requirements:

- Planning skills, attention to detail
- Plenty of initiative and ability to work independently
- Knowledge of geography
- Good communication and writing skills
- Ability to use spreadsheets, databases, and other IT programs
- Ability to remain calm under pressure and make decisions quickly
- Ability to speak other languages (although this isn't essential, just useful)

What do we offer?

- Fulltime job
- An informal and international workspace in Breda
- Career opportunities in a young, fast-growing company
- Our company in five words: international, innovative, sustainable, fresh, dynamic

Where will you be working?

You'll join a fast-growing, innovative international organization in the fresh produce sector. This is a listed company, with its origins in Canada. The organization distributes fresh produce over the whole world. The products go from farmers straight to suppliers, and from there directly to the customer. The organization isn't physically involved with the products but arranges the entire process from the office. You'll be joining an international team, where teamwork is paramount. Every Friday, we treat ourselves to a delicious lunch, and in the summer there's time for drinks on our roof terrace. It's a dynamic environment that's constantly changing. We'll be moving to new premises, centrally located in Breda, in the first quarter of 2023.

Interested?

Send your CV with a short cover letter to Esther Cordes, hr.europe@organto.com. We look forward to receiving your application.